

As we celebrate Pesach, we observe the tradition that, in each generation the individual is obligated to see himself (לראות את עצמו) as though he [himself] left Egypt, as it is written:

*And you shall tell your son on that day, saying,
For this God did for ME, when I left Egypt”
(Mishna Pesachim 9:5)*

Thank you for helping us ensure that future generations will benefit from the wealth of programs, infused with the best of the tradition and values of Conservative Judaism, offered during a summer at Camp Ramah in the Berkshires. We appreciate your investment in future generations of Jewish leadership as an inaugural member of the Yerusha Legacy Society.

חג שמח ותודה רבה,

*Shelly Handel, Chair
Yerusha Legacy Society*

As we celebrate Pesach, we observe the tradition that, in each generation the individual is obligated to see himself (לראות את עצמו) as though he [himself] left Egypt, as it is written:

*And you shall tell your son on that day, saying,
For this God did for ME, when I left Egypt”
(Mishna Pesachim 9:5)*

Thank you for helping us ensure that future generations will benefit from the wealth of programs, infused with the best of the tradition and values of Conservative Judaism, offered during a summer at Camp Ramah in the Berkshires. We appreciate your investment in future generations of Jewish leadership as an inaugural member of the Yerusha Legacy Society.

חג שמח ותודה רבה,

*Shelly Handel, Chair
Yerusha Legacy Society*

